Educational Projects

Classroom Music Project – 1999 to the present:

Started in Portland, Oregon and expanding to international destinations, Meyer created the Classroom Music Project, a music education program bringing opportunities to thousands of students connecting classical music with contemporary and world music using state of the art recording technology. Meyer has continued to diversify this program incorporating history and science with a unique approach examining music from the perspective of different cultures and styles.

Cross Cultural Collaborations

Meyer has engaged in several cross-cultural collaborations with various artists and recorded numerous musicians from around the world including Buddhist monks in Siem Reap, Cambodia and Mahout’s (Elephant Trainer’s) singing traditional Mahout song’s sitting around the campfire in The Golden Triangle, Thailand.

- The Machean Hilltribe School, “The Golden Triangle Symphony Orchestra”, Golden Triangle, Thailand
- Jale Mareau, Famous Fijian Folksinger and Songwriter – recorded and produced Jale’s most recent CD, “Isa Na Utoqu” on Aaron’s independent record label
- Live Traditional Music in Northern Fiji
